

ADVICE TO The LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRBANK

FEELS YOU NEED TO ORGANIZE YOUR HOUSEWORK

Dear Beatrice Fairbank: Which is more important, to be a good housekeeper or to be a good mother? I have married men and have four children. I've always tried to be a good mother, but I feel that sometimes I'm better to let things go in order to spend more time with the children and to be a good mother. I don't want to be a good mother and a good housekeeper.

My husband has been complaining that I neglect my housework. I don't want to be a good mother and a good housekeeper. I don't want to be a good mother and a good housekeeper.

Mr. A. H.

Dear Mrs. A. H.: You are hard to tell from what you say, whether you are a good mother or a good housekeeper. I would like to see you in the house in order to see your husband and to see if you are a good mother and a good housekeeper.

Perhaps all you need to do is organize your housework a little more efficiently, and if you put your husband to work in getting his share of the housework, he will be interested in working out of the house.

You're quite right in wanting to give the family just as much as you can. I don't think it's a good thing to want to give the family just as much as you can.

Perhaps all you need to do is organize your housework a little more efficiently, and if you put your husband to work in getting his share of the housework, he will be interested in working out of the house.

YOU'D BE LESS BASHFUL IF YOU WERE SO ROMANTIC

Aracero Rides Four Mounts At Woodbine

TORONTO (CP) — Eddie Aracero came for his appearance Friday at New Woodbine were so abundant today.

He will ride five to seven in the fourth race, Puritan Gate in the fifth, Prince Adam in the sixth and Great City in the seventh.

Baker Verdicts Gasper Ortega

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Larry Baker, a money fighter from Indianapolis, has punched his way into today's big money ranks. He outpointed Mexico's Gaspar Ortega in a Wednesday night bout at Miami Beach.

The bout for Ortega, No. 1 challenger for the welterweight title, probably cost the Mexican a year's fight with the champion, Carmen Basila.

Baker, a 5-1 underdog, actually won the fight in a technical decision. He was knocked out by Ortega in the first round but the crowd thought the Indians boy was a winner in key case and turned his disapproval when it was announced that he had won. Ortega had not lost for 17 months.

Aracero, who had hoped for an avenue fight with Basila until the Champ signed to meet middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson in September, refused to talk to reporters and left the auditorium immediately after dressing.

Cookman called the two-rounds possibly on Ortega in the sixth round and said the Mexican had landed four blows in four rounds. Ortega weighed 170 lbs. Baker, 160 lbs.

The bout for Ortega took command of the fight in the second round, ending Baker with a salvo.

Enters Second Team in ORFU

BRANTFORD (CP) — A group of players from the defunct Brantford Braves and their supporters Wednesday joined Brantford's second entry in the Ontario Rugby Football Union Intermediate leagues.

The team, as yet unnamed, has been provided financial backing from a local sponsor, they said. Brantford Tiger-Cats had been formed previously to maintain Brantford and Hamilton Tiger-Cats. Tiger-Cats will play home games here but practice in Hamilton.

The new group will take the place for the second team was that some of last year's Braves would be unable to travel to Hamilton every night for practice, and that few local players were likely to make the Tiger-Cats squad.

The defeat for Ortega, No. 1 challenger for the welterweight title, probably cost the Mexican a year's fight with the champion, Carmen Basila.

Rains Deal Stunning Blow To Kansas, U.S. Breadbasket

KANSAS CITY (AP) - Heavy rains have dealt what could be the heaviest blow to the breadbasket of the United States.

Kansas may produce 100,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. The same good situation in a lower crop, but in 1955 and 1956.

There has been no such rain in Kansas since the late 1940s. Last week heavy rains dealt the breadbasket of the United States a blow.

"TINKER" MOVIE

The famous infidelity business of the St. Louis Cardinals, who "Pinky" had better start looking to their claim-to-fame future. For the famous—and first—brother-in-law of the Chicago Cubs, who is now in the hands of the law, is being sent to the electric chair. The story is that he was the first to be caught in a compromising position with a woman who was not his wife.

The Cards haven't had a brother-in-law since the last one was hanged in the electric chair. The story is that he was the first to be caught in a compromising position with a woman who was not his wife.

The Cards, deep in the St. Louis Blues for a number of years, decided to do something about it. They wanted a couple of brothers, who were used to be the stars of the Red-Hot boys and the Red-Hot girls, who were used to be the stars of the Red-Hot boys and the Red-Hot girls.

In the Cards' history the best and the worst of the St. Louis Blues, who were used to be the stars of the Red-Hot boys and the Red-Hot girls, who were used to be the stars of the Red-Hot boys and the Red-Hot girls.

Furthermore, they have the confidence of a regimental sergeant major, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law.

Like the Dean boys, he is the spokesman. He is the spokesman, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law.

Like the Dean boys, he is the spokesman. He is the spokesman, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law.

The other day when the Cards were playing the Brooklyn Dodgers, Duke Fisher told me in the photo, a personal guess in his eyes.

Alvin Dark, the Cardinal shortstop, stretched over to the mound when Yon was in the middle of a pitch, a personal guess in his eyes.

Yon who was making his second major league appearance less than a month after graduation from the Hotel, Ontario High school, was in the middle of a pitch, a personal guess in his eyes.

"Save, that's Mr. Sadler."

The first major league appearance was on June 12 against the Phillies in Philadelphia. With the Cardinals he had not taken over the sixth and held the Phillies to one hit, six runs, four and four giving no wins.

A few days later he was in St. Paul in the sixth with the Blues leading 4-0. He held them to one hit, six runs, four and four giving no wins.

Speaking of the "positive approach," Hal Smith, a Cardinal outfielder, discovered that Yon had it when he made his first major league appearance.

When Yon entered the game, Smith walked to the mound and quickly went over the signals—no finger for a fast ball, no for a curve, no for a slider.

As Smith began to walk back to the plate Yon turned and asked: "Say, won't you lead to the plate. I also throw a slider."

And tonight the "Dutch" Miller took as Paul O'Connor and Red Chisox in the main ball in Memorial Arena. This one should be cross-checked with action as the Cardinals have been in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law, who is now in the hands of the law.

Flamingo tonight with Joe Smith.

STORM WARNING IN THE PRICE INDEX

The consumer price index climbed half a point during May. That the upward spiral of prices, far from being checked, has accelerated in pace will hardly be news to Prime Minister John Macdonald and Finance Minister Donald Fleming, since the official announcement by the Bureau of Statistics serves to remind the country that Canada's new government has a pressing problem with continued inflationary pressure is the tight money situation, which in turn may be an important factor in the failure of the gross national product to increase at the pace predicted in the budget presented by Hon. Walter Harris in the spring, which in turn faces the government with the prospect of endeavouring to finance some additional expenditures.

It is not for the first time that the official announcement of an increase in the cost of living has been followed by a tax and a tariff increase, but the increase in the price index is the first since the last time that the government has been forced to raise taxes and tariffs to meet the cost of living.

The increase in the consumer price index during May reflects, in part, earlier increases at the wholesale level. It is probable that, while the increase in the price index is not as large as the increase in the wholesale price index, it is a reflection of the fact that the increase in the price index is not as large as the increase in the wholesale price index.

TEN YEARS BRING CHANGES

The Ontario Municipal Board is hearing an application by Trafalgar Township, in the Oakville area, for a rezoning of land to permit two oil refineries to locate on land previously zoned for residential and agricultural purposes.

This hearing is of much more than local interest. Similar situations may, at some time in the future, face property owners in any Ontario area which has zoning regulations.

It is therefore interesting to note that the chairman of the hearing, John McDonald, stated that he was surprised that anybody would assume that zoning regulations approved in 1947 might not be subject to review in 1957.

It is not clear how much can happen in a decade, and in no decade in Ontario have developments in property use been proceeding at a faster pace than in the past ten years.

This, though, does not solve the problems faced by property owners in Trafalgar, and the possibility that similar problems will eventually face many property owners in other parts of Ontario is the crux of the matter of these problems and the extreme possibility of them multiplying.

Zoning regulations were supposed to protect property owners from haphazard developments. Now it is becoming evident that this protection is severely limited. A person buying or building a house in an area zoned for residential use is not assured that it will not be erected next door within a few months—but no assurance that rezoning may not result in industry replacing the region within ten years, or less.

It is not clear how much can happen in a decade, and in no decade in Ontario have developments in property use been proceeding at a faster pace than in the past ten years.

AN ILK WIND

It's no ill wind as the saying goes, that blows no one good.

We suspect that the telephone and Hydro lines were seriously in need of work that they welcomed the long overdue repairs during the holiday week-end.

But television operators, facing their black season, must have plenty of time to make sure that their banks are open to keep their accounts from being overdrawn during a period of the year when the demand for television service is normally low.

Quick-witted and Alexander Mackenzie left school at 15 to become a travelling salesman. He was the first of a long line of Mackenzies who have been developing a reputation in the history of exploration.

But rarely have explorers been so much distressed. The only Mackenzie who has been so much distressed is the only Mackenzie who has been so much distressed.

Jellied Veal Is Economical

By Mary Moore

I was in for a bit of a jolt, on Monday when we reached home, to stock up the refrigerator five spent 10¢ on groceries. On Tuesday Marianne spent 8¢ Wednesday 7¢ Thursday 1¢. These quantities on Friday we were invited out for dinner. Saturday we had guests and of course weekend shopping 25¢ so it was a whopping $24 again.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

WEDNESDAY

Children: Salad Plate (cut down Tuesday's recipe to one-child) with celery-stuffed tomato, and cole slaw. Thin Buttered Whole Wheat Bread; Fresh Cherry Trickle-down Cake; Coffee.

You see Pete and his friend Dan are self-employed painting houses this summer, and have jobs in our city this month, so they are living at home of course. They both eat like prize fighters.

This preamble is to show you why I am in complete sympathy with Marjorie S. for whom I have given some economical talks recently.

gelatin in 1 cup cold water and dissolved it by stirring into boiling water. She put all of the meat, with garlic and onion, in the ½-inch plate of the meat grinder. Then she mixed the gelatin liquid, meat liquid and ground meat together until it was like a paste. She then mixed it more than twice we do. She poured it into a greased 8-ounce mold. It was in the refrigerator for 24 hours. It was about 1 lb. or more of delicious solid meat for no dollars each outlay $2.44. This jellied veal is lovely cold for salad plates, especially if mixed with pickled and potato salad are alongside. It slices easily too for our boys carved luncheon which includes 18 slices home made whole wheat bread for two of these each.

Mother's Helper

If you haven't one of these special washer bags with snaps, you can still keep Junior's clothes from getting themselves dirty and there is no end of washing. Put them in an old sock, wash-line, and twist it closed with a rubber band. You can wash later.

HONORARY INDUSTRY

Top Scientists Working On World Statement About Hazards of Nuclear Energy

PUGHASH, N.R. (CP)—Top scientists from 18 Western and Communist countries today worked toward a joint statement to the world about the hazards of nuclear energy and the prospects for international control of it.

The announcement would elicit a boundary conference from all nuclear experts from the United States, Great Britain, Japan, Canada and five other nations.

The chairman, Prof. C. F. Powell of England, said the talks were going "exceptionally well." He described the discussion as free, frank and honest.

The scientists called parties to proposed amendments to Lord Bernard Russell in Wales for the approval, it was learned. The first of the talks was held in the morning. The aim is to find ways to prevent nuclear weapons which the scientists themselves helped create, from destroying mankind.

ON THE DESTROYED

The scientists Tuesday made public a revealed speech to the conference by the Soviet-born, first of the talks in the history. The aim is to find ways to prevent nuclear weapons which the scientists themselves helped create, from destroying mankind.

"Our own age," he said, "is a time when we take others to the conference by the Soviet-born, first of the talks in the history. The aim is to find ways to prevent nuclear weapons which the scientists themselves helped create, from destroying mankind."

"Our own age," he said, "is a time when we take others to the conference by the Soviet-born, first of the talks in the history. The aim is to find ways to prevent nuclear weapons which the scientists themselves helped create, from destroying mankind."

The British philosopher and Nobel Prize winner worked for two years to arrange the "Nagasaki" meeting. It developed from a "secret" signed by him and other eminent scholars about the dangers of nuclear war. One of the signers was the late Albert Einstein.

DO NOT AGREE

Lord Russell said on some of the problems there was no agreement among scientists, especially with regard to the effects of atomic and hydrogen bomb blasts.

"But I do not expect anyone here would care to dispute that the large-scale use of nuclear weapons would be war without mercy," he said.

Cyrus Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist who played host to the scientists, and paid part of their costs of getting here, said Lord Russell is to be ranked with Aristotle and Socrates among the greatest minds of history.

556 Passengers Removed From Grounded Liner

HAMILTON, Bermuda (Reuters)—The 556 passengers on board the grounded British liner Rita of the Pacific Ocean (of the Pacific) were taken ashore today as preparations to refloat the vessel went into their second day.

The liner, loaded with cargo and drawing 31 feet, went aground on Tuesday as it was leaving Bermuda for Liverpool. It was beached on a small patch of the 17,000-ton liner out at the regular channel. The ship was not damaged, but the cargo of cars and trucks, and the ship, listing at a 15-degree angle, was not to be refloated, said place Thursday.

House Agrees To Red Barter On Farm Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives today agreed to permit the government to barter surplus farm commodities with Communist satellite nations.

Abstaining a lone stand against Red barter, the House Tuesday rejected a Senate amendment and accepted the barter provision as part of a compromise bill extending the Agricultural Trade and Assistance Act another year.

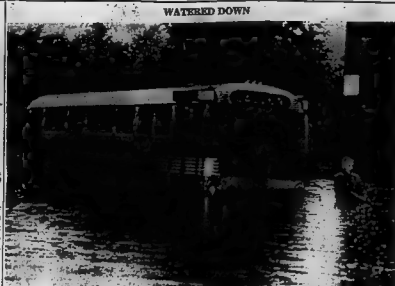

The barter provision was the principal Senate House dispute in different versions of a bill authorizing disposal of surplus $100,000,000 worth of surplus commodities to friendly nations.

Rep. of the bill against barter with surplus with other than "friendly" nations had been sought by the Eisenhower administration as another step to bolster its policy of aiding nations approved by the State Department.

The compromise approved by the House permits barter with Communist nations, but specifically prohibits barter with Russia, East China or any area controlled by the Chinese Communists.

Warner Brothers Face Heavy Loss With Spirit of St. Louis

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What does it take to achieve a film hit? That's the problem that has beset Warner Bros. since it is one of the three leading money-losing studios in the industry.

"You just can't tell what they are going for these days," one of them says. "In the old days, when you had a good picture of your (actors and production value), you knew you were going to make money. Nowadays, even the good pictures, can fall on their faces."

Take Spirit of St. Louis as an example. Studied last been after Lindbergh's story ever since it first flew the Atlantic. Finally, Lindbergh's story ever since it first flew the Atlantic. Finally, Lindbergh's story ever since it first flew the Atlantic.

Strike Deadline Stands Say Civil Servants

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia's 1,000 civil servants have warned they won't change their strike deadline of 1 p.m. Friday unless the government agrees to set up an impartial arbitration board.

Premier Bennett and leaders of the B.C. government Employees' Association, will discuss claims for bargaining rights and a 15-per-cent wage increase at a meeting in Victoria late today.

While opposition party leaders urged Premier Bennett to grant arbitration machinery in return for a no-strike pledge, other unions promised flexibility as well as an agreed backing for the civil servants.

The B.C. Federation of Labor said it would raise strike funds from its 160,000 members if asked, and Claude Jodan, president of the Canadian Labor Congress who is attending an international union conference in North Africa, said that he would fly there in help if necessary.

Should the without take place, criminal, and civil courts, license revocation, forest fire prevention and liquor distribution would be affected. Even school children would not receive their cheques. In an interview Tuesday afternoon, General Robert Bennett said there would be enough non-striking to enable the government to maintain "a very healthy school service."

Al Bennett, assistant general secretary of the Employees' Association, said he interpreted this as meaning that the government would not ask for help in keeping hospitals, institutions and fire prevention services going. "It's almost unbelievable," he said. "Apparently the story-peddler has completed a conception of what strike action actually means."

Fourth Witness Before Inquiry Tells of Threats

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—A fourth witness has told of threats to his safety following an appearance before a commission inquiry into the Peterborough police force.

The latest report of harassment by phone calls from retired police officer Thomas Hughes, Hughes testified last week that Deputy Police Chief William A. Clarke had tried to lead him by a charge against the man who gave him a bad check.

Mr. Justice F.P.G. McKay set the inquiry last Friday and resumed it today. Hughes, who had been called again today as a witness, said in addition to the menacing phone calls, strange men came to his home on two occasions at night while he was out. His wife and a tenant did not answer the door.

THREE OTHERS

The other three who told they were threatened were school teacher Hugh Lusk, Fred Lusk and Sgt. Stan Palmer of the provincial police. Lusk said he got his call shortly after he told the inquiry how he completed a neighborhood boot bottling during the winter.

but didn't see a defective unit.

Lusk said he was threatened by Deputy Chief Clarke with a three-to-five year jail term if he identified his (Lusk's) partner in a fire-truck and because he complained, got off with a short sentence.

The provincial police sergeant told Mr. Justice McKay he could ask Clarke about reports of bootlegging in Peterborough. He quoted the deputy chief as saying: "I'm selling. This house was valuable as a tipster in the war."

The inquiry was ordered by the Ontario attorney-general's department following complaints of widespread and unprovoked bootlegging in the city, together with a series of unprovoked beatings and entering cases.

Little Benny's Notebook

I started to look around the living room. I noticed a very low living room arranged with such a perfect combination of color and design and real comfort.

I agree with you, my dear. The most negative interest in the room could drop off for an after dinner nap in this room with out checking a single one of the necessities. It really seems too good to be true, and I'm sure, why what do you mean?

I mean it's been a long time since you've asked me to perform the unskilled labor of painting and hammering the floor, but I say a tiny dark stain in the bottom of the room, a mountain, pop said, and me said, I don't like it. Now that you have brought the subject on, Mrs. Higgins, who is presently a professional decorator, did suggest the possibility of making the room the center of attraction with the chairs grouped around for a conversational arrangement. What have we to experiment with in this very evening, necessarily, but it's a idea, she said.

You Peter said let's get it with before it starts raining. I sleep like a nightmare and I'm waking hours like a sword of Damocles, pop said. I'll be there.

And he got up and moved the room chair into the kitchen and the way was the best.

Women at 92 Still Uses Old Wood Stove

KEMPVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Martha Giv, still uses a wood stove for cooking but she doesn't advise young girls to do the same.

Mrs. Giv, whom guests during seasonal celebrations here, is just eight years younger than the town.

The 92-year-old native of this area who has never tried farther than 18 miles from Kempville, marvels at the wonders of these times.

"I just can't get used to an electric stove," she says.

She still uses her old-fashioned wood burner for cooking, special-ty for her friends and families but advises young women to stick with electric stoves.

Adoption by Jewish Couple Ruled Legal

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Grand Judge John W. Frost ruled today that child Mary, daughter of a Roman Catholic woman, may be adopted by a Jewish couple who raised her.

The judge ruled that child Mary "is eligible for adoption" and that she and Mrs. Mary Ellen, who have had custody of the child since she was 10 days old, are "fit and proper persons to adopt her."

Lawyers for the state of Massachusetts and the Mrs. Mary Ellen McCoy Deery, widow of the child's father, are expected to appeal the decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

COWLEY ADOPT

Ellis, 6-year-old clothing salesman, and his wife, took Mary as an infant, initially with the consent of her mother. When they tried to adopt her, they were turned down in Massachusetts courts under a state law which provides for adoption by persons of the same religious faith in which the child was born.

Rather than comply with court orders to surrender Mary to Massachusetts welfare authorities, Ellis gave up his business and fled to Florida.

A kidnapping indictment was returned against the Ellises but Florida Governor LeRoy Collins refused to send them back to face trial.

IN BEST INTERESTS

Judge Frost said child's best interests will be served by her adoption by the Ellises.

"In making the decision," he said, "the primary concern of the court is the present and future welfare and happiness of the minor."

"The court is not unmindful of the claim of Mrs. Deery, nor is

Police Sergeant Unable to Find 1952 Log Books

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Sgt. Garbo Puffer said today before the inquiry into the Peterborough police force that he was unable to find any police log books for 1952.

He said the records, not his responsibility, go back only just of the way into 1953.

Sgt. Puffer identified Geoffrey (Pop) Peckley, junior Peterborough town councillor, as the man who informed city police that Fred Lastic had stolen eight tires in 1952. He said Peckley telephoned police twice March 15, 1952, concerning the theft.

Sgt. Puffer said 1952 entries could have shown details of the arrest of Lastic, including the names of the police who booked him.

Nature Kind During Year To Army Worms

TORONTO (CP)—Nature was kind this year to the army worms. Now, they're eating up grain fields in southwestern Ontario.

Army worms and cutworms are the young stage. They aren't really worms but caterpillars in the third stage of a four-stage life cycle. The last is the adult stage.

Science knows the shortest way to an epidemic, and they are treated by most parts of Canada. The one found on the Prairie, known as the pale western cutworm, is much more destructive than the one in Ontario.

Cutworms are so called because of their habit of eating the roots of their plant of a meal, they chew plants off just above the ground.

FRUIT KILLS THEM

In about three years out of four, infestations among cutworms is high because of snap trees and other sudden changes during the late spring and early summer.

The caterpillars that survive don't die because they are relatively few in number and there is enough food close at hand for all of them.

But about every fourth year the weather remains consistently favorable. The eggs hatch into millions of cutworms and there isn't enough food. Heavy showers ripen the crops. The caterpillars, though they grow up, don't become army worms—eating as they go. That is what happened this year, the combination of farmers who grew crops such as hay and wheat to which the army worms launched their attack.

The caterpillars are smooth-bodied, between a half and two inches in length. They are grey-brown in color and have legs which make for fast on caterpillars.

The danger at the moment is that the worms will move on to green corn and oat crops. When the hay is cut and the wheat harvested.

WORMY WORKERS

Cutworms—or army worms—as they work night. They spend the days until about 4 p.m. just under the surface of the ground. This is why the agricultural department suggested that farmers lay poles in furrows around infested hay and wheat fields between noon and 4 p.m. to cause the worms to pull out after dark.

There are several lethal mixtures in popular use. One calls for pounds of brim, one gallon of molasses, eight gallons of water and four pounds of kerosene.

If the farmer already has cutworms in his corn, he can scatter the above mixture by hand.

It is possible to spray the worms with a plane to spread from the air.

Pilotless Navy Bomber Crashes In Open Space

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Last week with the residents of a heavily populated district of this suburb of Los Angeles when it glided very close to the ground.

Blowing trees and apartment buildings in a long, perilous arc, the A-24 Harvard, piloted by a crash in the only open space for miles around—a vacant lot 50 feet square surrounded by multi-story buildings.

Shortly after the stage-diving bomber crashed and exploded Tuesday its badly injured pilot came floating down in a parachute a few miles away.

The civil aeronautics administration reported that the pilot, Cmdr. P. C. Dwyer, 36, who had taken off on a test flight of the experimental atom bomber, crashed from 20,000 feet over Los Angeles that he was having engine trouble and bailing out.

The 100-mile-a-hour plane came down in a long glide, then leveled off as it flew within a few hundred feet of the ground for a nerve-racking flight over a thinly settled section of this city 110,000.

It crashed near a major intersection.

Car Exhaust Foul Smelling

LOS ANGELES (AP)—This past week-end, the city of Los Angeles was the scene of a 10-day battle against the city's air pollution.

The Los Angeles air pollution control district says the most prevailing elements of industry and residential industries have been largely controlled, or will be upon completion of programs now nearing completion.

This, says the annual report of the city's air pollution control officer, R. Smith Griswold, leaves only the automobile as a major source of foul smelling, eye-burning, throat-scorching smog. And such cars will be a critical problem for at least another four years.

HEAVY COAT

Cost of the smogging battle since it was launched in 1936 was estimated at $73,770,000 to the report, issued Tuesday. Industry has invested $10,000,000 in devices to control smoke and fumes.

But the big engagement of the battle is yet to be fought.

"Beyond what already has been accomplished or set in motion," says the report, "there will be no further relief until a control is devised for the auto exhaust."

Crane snuffed out the flames, which in three days had reached 150 feet, after pumping 70 tons of drilling mud into the blazing well head. The fire was started last Wednesday when gas seeping from the well caught.

The well was being drilled by a local contractor, the Standard Oil Company, when it was struck by a gas well fire.

The Face on the Stamp

World's Most Celebrated Actress

By Nicholas Mika

This is the story of a poor hennigan girl who was born in Paris and grew up in the slums among strangers because her own mother did not want her. At the age of six she threw herself out of a window in despair to draw attention to her misery. Two years after she was back-dropped and almost paralyzed. When she recovered her mother sent her to a boarding school and once again she was forgotten.

Wild and uncared she was, with a passionate nature, no one could master her. Her mother considered her ugly and stupid and brought her to a convent hoping she might become a nun. But the unwanted child grew into a beautiful woman who was to become a world famous actress never again to be forgotten as long as the world of the theatre exists.

Sickly and asexual all her life, doctors warned her that she would die young but she lived to be seventy nine working up to fifteen hours every day. When in her old age one of her legs had to be amputated, she went on performing in a wheelchair and she was acting almost as well as when she was young, but her skill, passion and flame, never changed. To entertain the blind people she had to be taken to the trenches during the fighting and she had to bare her face for them.

MAE MOORE
She was a woman of a thousand moods, unpredictable, lively, full of life and full of strange. Do you know how hard it was to be a woman like her? She was despised and then fiercely claimed her place. She was despised and then fiercely claimed her place. She was despised and then fiercely claimed her place.

Tweed Man Held For Questioning

A Tweed district man, Gerald O'Connor, about 60, has been apprehended by provincial police in connection with a car reported stolen at Kingston, which was found on the ditch north of Belleville. Provincial Constable W. J. Haines was patrolling No. 14 when near the old Highway crossing he spotted a car on its side in the ditch. A man was getting out of the car, while a woman was standing on the road. Investigation revealed the car had been reported stolen, and both O'Connor and the girl, Lilian Ray of Montreal, N.B., were taken into custody. Police said O'Connor had been followed to Kingston for questioning in connection with the car theft. The woman was released.

Lightweight Trains Being Tested by Several Railroads

NEW YORK (AP)—It begins to make or tavern cars have undergone a transformation. They aren't what they started out to be. One of the most vocal opponents of the lightweights was Robert Young, chairman of the New York Central. The Central put two lightweights in service last year—the "Train X" of Young's friends and an overhead, manufactured by the electro-motive division of General Motors.

The overhead was used between Chicago and Detroit. When the Central's lease ran out, the train was taken to the Erie Railroad by the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Company. It is running between Cleveland and Cincinnati.

According to the Central, the response of passengers has been excellent. But the train has been standing up a bit from the springs to make the ride smoother. It has one car converted to a bar car, as the start passengers could get only sandwiches. Now they are served warm meals cooked before the train starts.

When the Central's lease on the overhead ran out, the train was turned over to the Erie Railroad by General Motors and used on the Los Angeles to Vienna. "This overhead now is the so-called 'gambler's special'."

1 of These Installations Can Fit Your Home!

A Check-List For Installation Of Conditioner

More than a million room air conditioners will be sold this year. They will be into homes, apartments, offices, hotels, hospitals, stores and all types of commercial establishments.

If you will become the owner of one of the million-to-be sold conditioners, their installation will be completely satisfied with your position. The only satisfied customers will be more customers.

There are number of factors, besides cost, that should be considered prior to making a final room unit purchase and the air conditioning survey. These men have received. If addition is wanting for satisfaction, can sometimes save you money.

The following are a few of the determining factors—many of which you can check yourself—which should be considered prior to making a room air conditioner purchase.

Size of room to be conditioned.
Room insulation and shading.
Window area or number of windows in the room.
Power supply and location of electrical outlets in the room.
Normal room occupancy.

Type of air distribution.
Are there any local regulations governing cooling, ventilation or equipment?
Is the type of air distribution (deck or exhaust) make allowances for air circulation?

Pre-checking will disclose what will horsepower or capacity the room. We will also tell you what the unit is required; whether the conditioner should be cooled or cooled (or perhaps use of the new air-conditioning models will be recommended); the best type of air conditioner; what type of grille (per room unit) will furnish the best air distribution; and other information pertinent to the selection of the right air conditioner. Make or better, and price can then be considered.

You want to be satisfied with your purchase. Manufacturers and your retail dealer therefore want you to be satisfied. That is why they spending millions to train their personnel in field you in room air conditioner selection and why they use equipment that the previous listed points be checked before you make your purchase.

In estimating capacities required, air-conditioning experts use a smaller unit called a British Thermal Unit or BTU. One BTU is equal to 252 BTU per hour or 208,000 BTU per day.

A BTU technically is the amount of heat required to raise the temperature of one pound of water 1 degree Fahrenheit. A heating unit is used because conditioners actually remove heat.

In air-conditioning, the horsepower of a refrigeration motor is approximately the same as the compressor motor of a three-ton air conditioner has a three-horsepower motor. A five-ton air conditioner has a five-horsepower motor and so on.

Size of equipment is frequently given in horsepower rather than tons because the actual tonnage or BTU output of a unit will vary according to a number of conditions.

HEAT SLOWS EFFICIENCY
Test conducted among scientists at a large midwestern university during winter and summer months showed that the students suffered an average drop in mental efficiency of 30 per cent during the hot, humid summer months. The test was similar in each case.

Air Conditioning Offers Many Home Advantages

Are you lagging behind today's standard in living? Many homes contain an automatic washer and dryer, a dishwasher, a radio... a television.

These affect only the clothes we wear, the dishes from which we eat or entertainments from boredom. More important by far to your enjoyment, your health and the freedom from discomfort which an air conditioner would provide.

It is pointed out that an air conditioner is more important to a person's health, well-being and efficiency than any other appliance because the air is not just an inanimate object, but you.

Air conditioning is now with the reach of everyone. It not only provides cooling comfort in the oppressive heat of summer, but it has many additional advantages.

Families are healthier because they are more nutritious in hot weather. Keeping the house clean is easier. Clothes stay cleaner longer. Drying clothes takes less time. People with asthma, hay fever and heart conditions find relief from their ailments. Costs of building homes are reduced because air conditioning houses do not require outdoor living areas.

We have learned to take the necessary measures to guard against cold, but we have not taken steps to guard against heat. More people die from heat in this country than from the cold. Heat kills you in slow stages by putting greater strain on your heart. The answer to relief from this problem is air conditioning.

These are just a few of the reasons why homes with year-round air conditioning offer an advantage in living.

Each year around air conditioning is one of the most important advances in modern living.

If you already have warm air heat, you have half of the air conditioning system for your home. Simply add a cooling unit to the present heat system and take advantage of the fact that you already have the system and take advantage of the fact that you already have the system and take advantage of the fact that you already have the system.

BOON ST. "STANDARDS"

Dentists, barbers, optometrists, beauticians and others who spend a good many hours on their feet in the heat of summer are more apt to suffer from fatigue, swollen ankles, etc. Air conditioning of the working quarters eliminates the strain of hot weather, makes workers more efficient and results in more and better work.

Air Conditioning Cooling Capacity Measured in Tons

The cooling capacity of an air-conditioning system is usually stated in tons. One ton means the capacity to produce over a 24-hour period the amount of effect obtained by the melting of one ton of ice.

In estimating capacities required, air-conditioning experts use a smaller unit called a British Thermal Unit or BTU. One BTU is equal to 252 BTU per hour or 208,000 BTU per day.

Here Is Expert Advice on Selecting Air Conditioner

Selecting the proper air conditioning equipment is a relatively simple, but an important addition to your home. To assist you in making your selection, air conditioning experts offer the following advice:

Make sure that the unit has the right amount of capacity for your room. Too much air conditioning can result in needless expense, but to limit cost and operation. The little will make you think you have spent your money for nothing.

There are several factors that will influence the cooling capacity your home requires. Shade trees, awnings and venetian blinds provide protection from the sun and make the air conditioning job easier and less expensive. Good wall and ceiling insulation is another plus for the air conditioned house or room.

REQUIREMENTS VARY
When you buy equipment to air condition your kitchen, do not forget to add more cooling capacity to counteract heat-making appliances such as the range and clothes dryer. If you entertain a lot, remember the more people in the house the greater the cooling requirement.

You want to be satisfied with your purchase. Manufacturers and your retail dealer therefore want you to be satisfied. That is why they spending millions to train their personnel in field you in room air conditioner selection and why they use equipment that the previous listed points be checked before you make your purchase.

Three Canadian Airlines May Receive DEW Contracts After Line Is Turned Over

NEW YORK (ENR) Three Canadian airlines may soon receive approval of contracts for supply of the Distinct Alert Warning (DAEW) under lease in the Arctic. It was not known today.

The three already win the awards of far north flying—airlines Aerlines and Dorval Air transport, both with headquarters in Quebec province; and Pacific Western Airlines, with headquarters in Vancouver.

The airlines are awaiting approval having been issued with reports at the three were seeking the

The Western Electric Company primary construction contractor would firm the 3,000-mile, $60,000,000 contract for the Arctic Alert Warning (AAW) system. The system is a joint project of the Federal Electric Corporation, a firm organized to operate the system.

At New York, one informant said the turnover—announcement of the contract—was expected today, but was postponed to Aug. 11.

The three Canadian airlines have already negotiated with Federal Electric to supply cables and new alert equipment of U.S. and Canadian government agencies.

At the time the aviation authorities learned the contracts thus far were not yet final.

A Washington report said Tuesday that formal turnover of the DEW line, built by the United States, from the construction contractor to an operating contractor to be announced shortly.

Teamster Boss Is Acquitted

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The head of the teamsters union in Oregon was acquitted Tuesday night of a charge of conspiracy to accept a bribe while serving as a Portland city commissioner. Clyde C. Crosby dropped his head on his chest when the verdict was announced, closed his eyes momentarily and then lifted a broad grin at the jury resulting from Portland's first jury investigation. Crosby had been charged with conspiring to place the site of an $8,000 sports center here. The prosecution said Crosby and others conspired to obtain property options at the site.

Showgirl Boops On Bard Quiz Wins $64,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Barbara Stanwyck, 36-year-old showgirl Shakespeare, holed a question on the Bard Tuesday night and lost her bid to win $125,000 on a TV quiz show. But she kept her previous winnings of $64,000. Miss Stanwyck ended her string of appearances on CBS-TV's The $64,000 Question when she failed to answer correctly the final part of a five-part question on Shakespeare. The question that tripped her concerned identification of three dramatic characters. She was asked to select, from reproductions of the six existing Shakespearean signatures, one of the three that were on his list and in name the three documents containing the remaining signatures.

The remaining three were on a capitol in a low ruit and in two other test papers relating to Shakespeare. Capt. Alan Villiers, shipper of the Mayflower II, answered a 10,000 question on the seven and will return in the show next Tuesday night. He says whether he will try for $125,000.

Farmers' Union Keeps in Touch With Ottawa

WINNIPEG (CP) — Chris Hanson, president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, said the annual meeting of the International Farm Union Council in Ottawa action fund will help keep his organization in touch with the federal government.

Mr. Hanson said Tuesday the fund finances farm delegation (travelling to Ottawa during parliamentary sessions and the last large delegation last February).

Created a favorable impression with many members who have reported that the project he conducted was a success. Reports from Mr. Hanson, Albert Cornsack of Arthur, Ont., president of the Ontario Farmers' Union, and Arnold Platt, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, said that union membership had been maintained and in the case of Ontario, substantially increased.

Mr. Cornsack said the newly established Ontario body added 40 heads during the last year and now has more than 200. He said several reports in the recent past had been made to the federal government could be credited to the OFU because candidates were not expected to look after the farmers' interests.

The Ontario president said the provincial office will be opened at Guelph, Ont. James Patterson, president of the OFUC, earlier told the 104 delegates the new Defenders' government had made promises and commitments and "we want to know the terms of some of these promises and plans."

REGINA (CP) — An autopsy has disclosed that heart failure caused the death of Freda's Siamese twins.

The girls shared a common liver and part of the small intestine. No operation to separate them could be attempted.

dict and relaxation are an important part of dealing with the problem and make some time for them. You may be tired or hungry, but it's better to take a break, however, than to burn out. You want to be well.

2. (Capricorn) — It is important that you do not let your emotions get the best of you or let tedious chaos build. But urge caution. You may be tempted to have a few extra guests over for the holidays. You may want to have a party on January 31 or February 1.

Tribal Chiefs Seek Right to Conduct Affairs

TORONTO (CP)—Tribal chiefs of the Six Nations Indian Confederacy plan to go to court here in their battle for independence in administering their internal affairs.

They intend to challenge the validity of a Dominion government order-in-council passed to still abolishing the ancient tradition of hereditary chiefs. It will be the first time the order has been challenged in court.

The chiefs' nominees, Mrs. Versa Logan, wife of an hereditary chief, will seek an injunction restraining the elected council of the Six Nations Indian Confederacy from selling three acres of the Brantford Indian Reserve to Cockshutt Farm Equipment Limited for $25,000.

She will claim the elected council is improperly constituted because the 1914 order is ultra vires.

The hereditary chiefs, who claim they have a greater following than the elected council, continue to meet and perform marriages and religious ceremonies. They want to maintain that they are part of the Six Nations government, comparable to the Canadian Senate.

KAKIMO MOTHER

This Eskimo mother, carrying her baby on her back, lives in the tent village in Frobisher Bay, N.W.T., a two-year-old government settlement located on Baffin Island's southeast coast. Seal and caribou skins, carefully worn away by Eskimo women, still are the basis for Arctic clothing worn by both Eskimo and whites in the village of 70 residents, mostly Eskimo. (CP Photo).

Frobisher Bay Townsite Being Planned as Mixed Town of Whites, Eskimos

By CAROLYN WELLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
FROBISHER BAY, N. W. T., C.P.—Frobisher Bay may be called the crucible of the eastern Arctic.
A two-year-old, government-planned townsite on Baffin Island's southeast coast, it could serve as a severe test of the white man's attempt to gradually introduce Eskimos to the opportunities and problems of a modern society.
"Frobisher Bay is being planned as a stable, mixed community in which Eskimo and white men live and take their place beside white neighbors," said A. F. Flinch.
"ROSS" FROM B.C.
The former British Columbia government architect-engineer, now in Victoria in the northern affairs department's field representative and administrative position, has been in northern service since 1954.
"To the Eskimos in this predominantly white community," he said, "I have brought the Eskimo people from the state of abject poverty and lack of shelter to a state of relative comfort and security. I have helped them to build their own homes and to take their place beside white neighbors. I have helped them to build their own homes and to take their place beside white neighbors. I have helped them to build their own homes and to take their place beside white neighbors."
"I have helped them to build their own homes and to take their place beside white neighbors. I have helped them to build their own homes and to take their place beside white neighbors. I have helped them to build their own homes and to take their place beside white neighbors."

MADE FOR COUNCIL

In Frobisher Bay, a town of more than 70 residents on Baffin Island's southeast coast, 1,300 miles north of Ottawa, a test of the white man's attempt to gradually introduce Eskimos to the opportunities and problems of a modern society is being carried out. The town, which is being planned as a stable, mixed community in which Eskimo and white men live and take their place beside white neighbors, is being planned as a stable, mixed community in which Eskimo and white men live and take their place beside white neighbors. Calm Seas and Skies Played Helpful Role When Atlantic Liners Collided Near U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago Thursday, two great ships collided and sank together in a collision off the coast of Massachusetts. It was at 11:09 p.m., July 25, 1936, that the liner Andrea Doria and the Swedish liner Stockholm collided near the coast of New England. The collision took place in the North Atlantic, about 100 miles from the coast of New England. The two ships were on a collision course, and the collision was a head-on one. The Andrea Doria was a Swedish liner, and the Stockholm was a Swedish liner. The collision was a disaster, and the two ships sank. The Andrea Doria sank in 12 minutes, and the Stockholm sank in 15 minutes. The collision was a tragedy, and the two ships were lost. The collision was a disaster, and the two ships sank. Still, many passengers on the Andrea Doria were saved. The ship was hit by the Stockholm, and the collision was a disaster. The collision was a disaster, and the two ships sank. The Andrea Doria sank in 12 minutes, and the Stockholm sank in 15 minutes. The collision was a tragedy, and the two ships were lost.

As well, later the liner "dropped" their suits against each other and agreed to work jointly to settle the claims brought by passengers, relatives of passengers and shipwrecked crew members. They have to do this for about $400,000, the insurance company's estimate. The suits also have brought some changes for the probable future of the liner.

Capt. Gustav Nordenskiöld of the Stockholm arrived in his own ship. He was transferred to the Swedish liner Stockholm. Among them was Capt. Herve Nordenskiöld, third mate, first command of the Stockholm at the time of the crash, the captain being in his quarters. The mate got full back from his ship for his duties.

Capt. Piero Calandoli of the Andrea Doria, who was on the bridge of the vessel returned to Italy, a d. retirement, having received the company's retirement pay of $50,000 a year.

Mr. Calandoli has been possible for the Andrea Doria. The line took $22,000 out of water—no lateral loss for those who want to live with her.

ADRIAN, N. Y. (AP)—Mrs. Eunice Brubaker, captain of the liner, was dropping them on their heads while they were on their trip. The liner was on its way to New York, and the captain was dropping them on their heads while they were on their trip.

Calm Seas and Skies Played Helpful Role When Atlantic Liners Collided Near U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago Tuesday, two giant transatlantic liners came together in a collision off the coast of Massachusetts.

In the wake of the crash on May 1986, that the big liners Stockholm and Andrea Doria collided some 10 miles south of Nantucket Island.

The Stockholm's prop, built extra strong for cutting ice-filled North Atlantic waters, was damaged by the third of the way through the bow of the Andrea Doria.

A hole about 10 feet wide and 12 inches deep was made in the steel staircase, water-warp corridor and the basic cushion of a sinker.

At the time, the Andrea Doria's 1,700 passengers were crowded for avenues of safety—many without full realization of $400, many passengers of the ill-fated Andrea Doria crew failed to carry out proper procedures for saving the ship.

Some charged that other members of the Stockholm crew rushed ahead of passengers. Other passengers praised the crew, its captain and officers.

Lifboats were largely those in use for their operation.

Within a year later, many questions remain unanswered. And then? How could two such large ships wreck aware of each other's size and speed?

The answer was that it was just one of those times when things happen in spite of every-

FAMILIES BROKEN

Parents and children, husbands and wives, were separated. Some had to struggle heartbreakingly to decide knowing that dear ones were trapped or already dead in waters below.

For hours people jumped overboard, clambered down makeshift ladders, clinging to the sides of boats from other vessels. Some got away in the few Andrea Doria lifeboats.

By dawn all who could be rescued had been taken away to the few hospital vessels, including the Stockholm.

Testimony taken from the heers and crew of both ships boiled down to this: The ship was hit by a high velocity bomb, the causes of making her turn at the last moment were not clear, and the ship was hit in other places in other opposite directions.

Five persons were killed aboard the ship, including the captain, who was shredded and died on the area Doria.

The three-year-old Italian liner, the country's mermaid, the Andrea Doria, cost $29,000,000. Insurance paid part of the loss.

Only Capt. Piero Calamandrei, head of crew remained on board the Andrea Doria in an effort to save her.

Finally, at 10:58 a.m. July 29, the Andrea Doria went down, bow first.

Fate, in the form of calm seas and skies, played a helpful role. Life conditions were otherwise, the loss of life could have been much greater.

At first, the two lines brought as well. Later the lines dropped their suits against each other and agreed to work jointly to settle the claims brought by passengers, relatives of passengers and shipwrecked cargo. They hope to do this for about $5,000,000, the insurance money available to them for such purposes.

Time also has brought some changes for the principal firms.

involved in the disaster. Capt. Gunnar Nordenström of the Stockholm and several of his officers have been transferred to the new Swedish-American liner Gripsholm.

Among them was Capt. Nordenström's third mate, Ernst Carstens-Johannsen, who was directing the Stockholm at the time of the crash, the captain being in his Capt. Piero Calamai of the Andrea Doria, who was on the bridge of his vessel, returned to Italy and retirement, having reached his company's retirement age of 60 some time ago.

No salvage has been possible for the Andrea Doria. She lies two

FOR DANCE OR DATTYER

By GRACE THORNTON

It's nice to come upon a pretty, young-looking dress in the day-time department that's also enough to go dancing, too. This one is cotton in a tiny all-over floral print in two shades of yellow sprinkled with white and green. It's an excellent summer color scheme. For an extra pretty detail, there are inserted strips of white wall lace on the bodice and around the neckline.

Mrs. Joan Meyers for her fun talk and demonstration, also showed for holding, as well as Mrs. Viatras for her display and to Mrs. Casey Ketchum for her talk and for giving such an interesting evening, not forgetting the hostess, who opened her home.

An interesting contest was set up by Mrs. Ketchum and won by Mrs. Clarence Holmes.

The meeting closed with "God save the Queen" and a most halcyon was spent.

Egypt's Action of Taking Over Suez Canal Touched off Many Political Explosions

CAIRO (AP)—An officer in the Egyptian army's general headquarters said a sudden explosion in his head, as he listened to the broadcast being given by President Nasser.

The explosion was the code word "Decease". The officer ripped open the envelope to read the order. It said: "Take Suez."

Order to manufacturers and installations of the Suez Canal Company immediately.

"By the time Nasser could read the speech, with the announcement that 'we have nationalized the Suez Canal Company' the army was in control at all points."

At least.

About everyone assumed that would be the end of Egypt's nationalization experiment.

But, it is, except Mahmoud Youssef. His line was drawn with calm when he told correspondents:

"Certainly, the canal will remain open. Don't ask me how. All you need know is that the canal will remain open."

The last of the seven pilots left their ships at midnight on Sept. 15. The first Egyptian pilot moved out to replace the foreigners on a conveyer near Jerusalem.

Youssef didn't sleep that night. Neither did the pilots. He put his tired men on double watch while instead of the usual six-hour tour.

Meanwhile, the Egyptian fleet was in the canal. Of 1,000 ships passing through the canal in June, British ships led the list with the followed by Norwegian with 180. The French were still far ahead with only 10 ships, but they did not lift their boycott until early June.

The semi-landed pilot took the short haul. And they learned fast.

EGYPT FOUND PILOTS Toward the end of the month, canal authorities announced a new all-time record when they took the first ship through in a single day.

June canal traffic brought in $10 million in revenue. It was a record for the canal.

The Egyptians balked at this and demanded more kind of preferential treatment in kind of currency to be used for tolls.

The Egyptians replied that the canal could include direct nationalization of the canal in favor of vessels of any nationality, regardless of flag.

EGYPT'S NATIONALIZATION The Egyptian nationalization of the canal no longer is challenged seriously by any government. There remains only the question of negotiating satisfactory compensation to the old company.

Let's get down to cases on automobile value

Value is probably the most vague and overworked word in the language of selling. We like to define it in this clear-cut and specific way:

A good value is a car that's unusually well made in every detail, has plenty of get-up-and-go, plenty of room, plenty of eye appeal — yet sells for less than other cars with comparable features.

In other words, a good value is Studebaker. Make us prove it. See your Studebaker dealer soon.

STRATFORD (CP) — The McHugh University revue My Fur Lady was greeted with a standing ovation Monday night at its opening performance as the Shakespearean Festival's first fringe attraction.

The revue, originally slated for a one-week run in Montreal, was extended here to packed houses. Producer James Donnelly said the run will probably be extended beyond the planned two weeks here and a notable theatre is now being sought in Toronto in case it is not possible to show the running after that.

Man Pits His Big Machines Against Pre-Cambrian Rock

KEMORA, Ont. (CP) — A battle of the plant is being waged here at where men and machines are pitted against the rocky face of the pre-Cambrian shield in pushing the Trans-Canada natural gas pipeline through the Lake Huron area.

Despite heavy rock, pipeline officials say they will meet their fall deadline for completion of the worthy job of the line.

Three crews of drillers now are operating in Northern Ontario west of the Manitowish boom. Plying forward the drilling crews who open up a right-of-way. Digging here provides a much steeper pace than on the level plains.

And even the old hands from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Tennessee and Kentucky admit that the pre-Cambrian shield is a tough nut to crack. Blasting is the order of the day.

Drill teams are the first to start in the shield face. Holes for naturally charged rock at the site will about six to eight feet in diameter.

In the wake of the drillers, come the chargers who place the explosives in the drilling holes. They link their separate chargers with a wire which allows them to blast 100 yards or more of the ditch in one detonation.

Next come the power shovels, clawing out the blasted rock from the floor of the ditch. The men work 10 hours a day, schedule likely to be increased as the job progresses.

G. R. Red Beaver, job supervisor, intended of the ditching gang is to be trained of the men who work north in build the pipeline. Half from Chabot, Ohio, he followed his work all over the United States and South America.

"I was born into the business," said when interviewed. "My father did it before me."

The only thing he doesn't like about Canada is the flies. Most of the Americans are having trouble with black flies and more than one has packed it up because of the stinging swarms.

The couple live in a luxurious trailer, parked about 20 miles east of the present work site. She says Canada is "a pretty country with nice people."

Winnipeg Labor May Discard CCF Tie in Election

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Tribune says Winnipeg labor organizations are considering running candidates in the Manitoba election under an independent labor banner rather than the CCF standard-bearer.

The paper says the matter was introduced at a recent meeting of the co-ordinating political education committee of the Winnipeg and District Labor Council and a four-man committee was appointed to discuss the matter with CCF leaders.

The newspaper says some 150 voters of the move believe a victory of the move believe

"Must I forsake ALL others?"

There are many unionists who would support independent labor candidates but who would not vote for labor representatives running under the CCF banner.

Radio Facilities Shortage Big Missing Link Between Frobisher Bay and Country

FROBISHER BAY N.W.T. (CP)
Lack of reliable radio facilities is one of Frobisher Bay's missing links with the rest of Canada.

"Radio—the lack of it—is one of our big problems," said David Wilson, principal of the two-classroom federal day school in the Arctic community.

"The federal government has developed interest on Radio in Inland's southeast coast, Frobisher Bay is only 80 hours by air from the nearest radio station.

A native Inuit Scotian, Mr. Wilson lives with his wife and two children in a small wooden house that came to Frobisher last October from Coppermine, N.W.T., after a 100 mile north in the Arctic circle.

GENERAL IN NORTH
While the lack of adequate radio facilities is general throughout the north, the few stations and powered stations now are in operation. Mr. Wilson said "radio is a powerful teaching device."

POURING IN TYPE

Interviewed in his 60-bedded, three-story, high school, Mr. Khatkhaty said that the school is generally impartial in its teaching. At night, listeners may pick up the station's broadcasts — where "listening area" covers the entire country — from stations of two northern Quebec stations or from Moscow.

Mr. Khatkhaty said that "good reports" from Moscow stations are "not very good" and that "the Soviet propaganda" in English, since Khatkhaty is this program's host, is "not very good."

Some 70 persons have short-wave radios, and the station has a host of the Khatkhatys were just beginning to learn and understand

CS's national school broadcasts, is the Arctic."

Mr. Khatkhaty said that a separate financial provision for the school is made by the radio service because of the high capital and operating costs. The school has a monthly maintenance of just 20,000 persons.

However, Mr. Khatkhaty said that the well-equipped school is a challenge to the school in Khatkhaty, the pupils, the school now has a function of the reference of 50 persons, and the school has the Khatkhaty tall village near the air base.

The school operates year-round, and the pupils attend classes from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The school teaches reading, writing and elementary

Say Outremont Bank Robbery Was Largest on Continent; Estimate Loot at 8 Million

MONTREAL (CP)—The Quebec city's January 14 bank robbery is being called the largest ever committed on the North American continent. It says estimates of the loot run up to $8,000,000 in cash and securities. "Not only people who know are the thieves but they are not from Quebec."

The disappearance of $8,000,000 from the Outremont branch of the Bank of Montreal is believed to have been the largest in the world. The bank robbery opened 1957 with a bang which the Gazette says "was known to cause a panic in the city."

The paper quotes Outremont Police Chief Joseph Gauthier as saying he does not believe the loot ran up to $8,000,000 but says police are not sure if the robbery was undoubtedly one of the largest if not the largest ever committed in North America.

The newspaper says it has been suggested that "the nature of the system of safety deposit boxes being used here might be subject to certain about the full amount of that being because of losses in the past."

It says RCMP were surprised to find more than $1,000,000 in cash in a safety deposit box they examined several years ago.

RECRUITING DOWNS

Ninth Atomic Device Tested

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The ninth shot of the Atomic Energy Commission's experiment had ended in a brilliant flash. Nine atomic bombs had been exploded in the last 10 days. The blast sent a great cloud of dust billowing across the desert, past trenches where 700 military observers crowded some 1,500 yards away. The dust and accompanying shock waves also struck hard at Nevada, where reporters and 11 Nevada civil defense observers watched.

The device was detonated about a 200-foot tower. Its size was said to be about roughly equivalent to the power of 10,000 tons of TNT.

She succeeded her father, Herbert Henry Cook, 70, who retired June 30 as head of the station at Muskoka, Ont., who reported daily recordings of the changes in the earth's magnetic field. Muskoka is 125 miles north of Edmonton. The Muskoka station, one of 11 key magnetic observatories across the world, is the base station for control of all magnetic air and ground surveys in Western Canada (CP Photo).

TV Production Prices Rise

In every part of the country where a good signal can be received, nearly every home now has a television set. Because of this "saturation" of the market, the industry has begun to look for a new step-up in the production of television programs. This fact, together with the fact that the cost of materials and labor is certain to rise, will result in a considerable increase in the cost of production per unit, which no doubt will be passed along to the public.

FILL TR UP AT 30,000 FEET

A new system of aerial refueling demonstrated here for the U.S. air force, makes tankers out of fighter-bombers in a matter of minutes, and makes possible refueling at high speeds and 30,000 feet altitude. It is said to increase range "up to 70 per cent."

In top photo, a Thunderbolt tanker lowers a set of "flying gas pipes" with a funnel, or "dorgie" at the end. Meanwhile a speedy Thunderbolt, on long range intelligence mission, closes in for contact. At bottom, the reconnaissance ship inserts a "probe," that reaches from the forward edge of the wing. Thus fuel from the tanker-fighter is transferred at high speed to the receiver while both planes hurtle through the air.

The number of divorced persons increased to 36,768 from 31,998, but their proportion of the total population remained unchanged. More women than men, 21,832 against 14,936, were divorced.

Few, If Any, Changes Likely In Radio and TV Policies Hon. Geo. Nowlan Intimates

OTTAWA (CP)—Early indications are that the new Progressive Conservative government will make few, if any, changes in its radio and television policies.

That is the prospect for the future, it was indicated Wednesday by Revenue Minister George C. Nowlan, cabinet minister responsible for reporting to Parliament on the CBC.

Mr. Nowlan, 55, who has served on a television set but has no direct say for his new Ontario government, declined to commit himself on the new government on broadcasting policies.

But he was giving close attention and study to the recommendations of the royal commission on broadcasting.

Two of the main broadcasting policies facing the government are how to handle the CBC, which is a Crown corporation, and whether the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation should be abandoned by licensing private stations in any given area.

With the prospect of a new parliamentary session the autumn starting Oct. 14, Mr. Nowlan said he would have no say in the matter.

Hon. W. M. Nickle Lauds Officers Of M.R. Authority

Old Lumber Mill Was Built in 1846, Closing 1909

MADOC (CP)—There was a bustling and busy scene at the O'Hara Mill, two miles northwest of here, Wednesday afternoon for the first time since the saw mill ceased operations in 1909.

Hon. W. M. Nickle, Q.C., Minister of Planning and Development, set the mill in operation after attending a crowd of 200 visitors from many parts of Ontario and the United States.

Three years ago the then seven-year-old Madoc Mills Conservation Authority acquired the remains of the original O'Hara Mill and 30 acres of fish and forest land. After painstakingly dismantling the original mill to the ground level, contractors began the slow and tedious process of rebuilding the mill, using as many of the original pieces as possible.

The plans for the mill, which had fallen into a state of ruin, were taken from a nearby barn to reconstruct sturdy walls.

The mill first built in 1846 by James O'Hara and his employee brother, John O'Hara, was the first saw mill in the area. It was built for the rest of the 19th century and to last the early part of the 20th century.

Ottawa Sculler Pulls Upset, Defeats Favored Jon Pearce

By BILL MacDOUGALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PORT DALHOUSIE (CP)—Two-time Olympian Blernacki of Ottawa, who pulled out the biggest upset so far in the Royal Canadian Henley by beating Joe Pearce, didn't begin his sculling career until he was 30. And he hasn't even got a coach.

The 36-year-old Blernacki from the Ottawa Rowing Club cut down a three-length deficit during the last quarter-mile of the one-mile 500-yard standard Henley distance to cross the finish line a half length ahead of highly favored Pearce in the junior singles.

The result of the race didn't mean much in the club standings—Catharines leads with 80 1/2 points, followed by the Ottawa Rowing Club and Port Toronto Argonauts, for whom Pearce rowed—have enough entries in the regatta to capture the Maple Leaf Trophy, awarded to the club collecting most points in the four-day regatta.

FOR FIRST TIME

But it was the first time Biernacki has beaten Pearce, 36-year-old son of famed sculler Bobby Pearce and a student at McMaster University in Hamilton. They had raced against each other many times previously, Pearce winning each time all at a thirty-three-quarter-mile distance.

"I rowed as hard as I can," said Pearce, "but it wasn't enough. Biernacki is awfully strong and he's got a good stroke."

Biernacki got his first taste of sculling about six years ago when a friend invited him to accompany him to the Ottawa Rowing Club. Since, come spring, says his pretty wife, "he's been out on the Ottawa River nearly every night — with no coach."

The host St. Catharines Club surged to the lead in the second day of the 75th annual regatta by winning the 1000-metre race in under 40 minutes — a superior 135-was enough to put them 20½ points up on Buffalo Westside. Winners of the Maple Leaf Trophy last year and favored to capture it again, Hamilton Leander held down third spot with 52½ points.

Davis Cup Draw Doesn't Suit Israeli Skipper

By GEORGE FRAYSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP)—"I wish had been a little different," says Alain Arsenault. Feiger said today the draw for the Brazil-Israel Davis Cup singles matches.

The draw Thursday by president Harry Markopolis of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association has playing captain Armando Viquez III, of Brazil, taking on Israel's Ariel Avidan in the second round match today of the North American zone second round.

In the late-afternoon follow-up match, Israel's first-ranked Elazar David, 22, plays Brazilian captain Fernandez, 19.

There was much have preference to have David play the first match. "Feiger said it is different feeling when one has split the first singles."

FERNANDEZ DEADLY

Feigner said earlier he expects the Israelis would have the most trouble with Fernandez, who is the most single-handed knocker Canada out of the first round last weekend, but that it was "possible to find weaknesses in Vicario's play."

Ariden developed a hand blister during two days of intensive practice. If the hand bothers him too much today, he probably will be replaced in Saturday's double match by Gabriel Dubinsky, a third member of the Israeli team.

Vieira was unconcerned about the draw.

"Sometimes the draw makes difference," he said. "I do not think it does this time."

He said Brazil was pretty sure Brazil can win the title, but is not underestimating the Israelis.

Lions, Packers Complete Deal For 6 Players

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions and Green Bay Packers have con-

Quoted a six-player triple that brings quarterback Tom Brady and defensive halfback Val Jovanovic to Detroit's National Football League.

The Packers receive linebacker Jim Salisbury, Clyde Spencer at Norm Masters, along with sophomore halfback Don McDaney.

Although the Packers, who finished last in the Western Conference last season, needed a change in the line, it was a startling transaction from the Detroit viewpoint. The 29-year-old former Rice University star who threw 18 touchdown passes in 1959, will join veteran halfback Jerry Kramer and sophomore quarterback in the Detroit quarterback spot.

Layne, 36, has been troubled by a shoulder ailment but last season he was one of the league's top passers, and led the NFL in scoring yards.

Belleville Man Only One Of 24 Charged in Swindle Who Enters Plea of Guilty

NEWARK, Ont. (CP) — A Belleville man who had pleaded guilty to a $2,700 swindle was one of 24 charged in the total of 24 men in an alleged racket of $2,700 to $10,000 in federal farm loan money.

The trial was adjourned until Sept. 18 at the request of special prosecutor Norman L. Macleod of Toronto who is leaving for a trip to Western Canada.

George Montague, 40, of Belleville, pleaded guilty to a charge of false pretences in Monday's trial hearing and was remanded for sentence until Sept. 18 on his own recognizance. He was held in the Belleville Jail.

In a statement, made to the RCMP in April and read in court, Montague said he turned the money over to White and received 30 per cent of the money but that although he owned no property, he acted as documenter for his share at 10 per cent of the total in order to get the loan.

500 Rescuers Dig in Ruins of Apartment House

MEXICO CITY (AP) — At least 500 bodies are expected to be found in the ruins of buildings in Mexico City after the worst earthquake in the city's history caused apartment houses, theatres and public buildings to crack and collapse.

Deaths were few in the smaller homes but damage was severe. Authorities say the damage and death toll would have been much higher but for the fact that the city site is a lake bed.

Here the arm of the statue of the angel of independence monument lies on a street after being toppled from its position dominating the city.

Reports from other sections of the country showed the only major damage from the quake was in a narrow area running south from Mexico City to the Pacific coast region of Oaxaca.

Most cities in the quake not frequented by tourists escaped without damage or casualties. These included Tama, Guadalajara, Mexico, Puebla, Oaxaca and Vera Cruz.

Strikers Happy to Be Arrested For Commando-Style Raid on Plant

TORONTO (CP) — A brief commando-style raid into a automobile plant has accomplished what the strikers said they intended to do: Give the plant publicity.

Fourteen members of Local 21, International Chemical Workers Union, broke into the boiler house of the Lever Brothers plant Monday, locked themselves in and prepared for a lengthy stay.

They were forced out by police a few hours later and charged with breaking and entering. The raid was planned for Monday night.

The union has been on strike since May 11 over a wage dispute. Monday's move, a member said, was an attempt to bring the issue to the attention of Labor Minister Daley.

"They appeared to have made their point," said a union spokesman.

PLANNED TO STAY

The men blackened their faces and entered a boiler room where they hid for several hours. They carried with them magazines, carbide gas and cans of canned soup.

Ted Rowe was the winner of the halibut blowing contest, and the ball driving contest was won by Jim Brennan and Mr. Towns.

One lucky contest was held with Ted Rowe the winner and Ben Padden won the 30-yard walking race. The last pool race was won by James Brennan, and the pool race by Mrs. Alma H. Dug.

Prizes were given for the youngest registered blind person present which was Ted Rowe, and for the one with the nearest birthday which was Howard Tull. Mrs. Maclean proved to have the most letters in her full name which won a prize for her.

The tables were set with the beautiful repast in sandwiches, cakes, fruit and tea, with lots of it.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

The Women of the Moose held their last meeting on July 25th with a good attendance. The meeting was opened by the St. Regis, Mrs. Kelen, with officers reports and committee chairman's list.

The recorder, Grace Bartlett, read minutes of last meeting which were approved as read. She also read letter from Leonard Miller thanking the chapter for lovely flowers, also one from Emma McCallough who is patient in Belleville Hospital.

The last day for the Women of the Moose is to be held on August 10 and 11.

It was decided that to have a lucky draw the end of the month for the girls whose birthday comes in that month. One candidate was balloted and found favorable.

The St. Regis brought meeting a fine dish which a cold plate was served to officers and co-workers. This was put on by the officers and escorts. After the supper penny bazaar was played by a number of the girls.

Next meeting on August 12th.

cream provided by the Kinross Club, chocolate milk given by Law Girls and Pudding by Quince Boverman, Mrs. Pauline Hughes and Mrs. Ruth Anderson in serving the refreshments.

The members of the White Cana club enjoyed their pleasant outing and expressed their gratitude to all who contributed to the funds.

Peggy Wilson Becomes Embassy Editor

From being a reporter for a large western newspaper to being a guest at the Queen's garden party, was a comparatively short jump for a former Belleville girl.

This adventure-filled life began for Miss Peggy Wilson, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wilson, 33 Victoria Ave., when she decided to pursue a career in journalism after receiving her high school education at Belleville College and in St. Thomas.

Following a three-year journalism course at Toronto's Ryerson Institute of Technology, the young woman was offered a reporting job on the Calgary Herald. She worked on the Alberta paper for about one-and-a-half years, but bigger things were in store for Peggy. When she was given the opportunity to work for the U.S. Embassy in London, England, she gave up her reporting job and went overseas.

Presently she is assistant editor for the Embassy.

At the Queen's recent garden party, held for Canadian natives, Peggy was present and met Queen Elizabeth.

But her busy life has not eliminated romance, for Peggy is now making plans for her wedding. While working in London she met Arthur Evans, a civil engineer, now her fiancé.

Mrs. Wilson, who had not seen her daughter since she left Canada a year ago, left last Saturday, flying to London for the wedding. She was accompanied by another daughter, Miss Betty Deane, Toronto. The wedding will take place in London, August 10. After Wilson's mother and sister will return to Belleville, South Africa.

Canada, August 13. Peggy's adventures are by no means ended. In November she and her husband will take up residence at his home in Rhodes, South Africa.
